Additional Costs that Exceed Session Limits:

The following is a list of costs that are outside of regular therapy sessions. When clients have insurance, these costs are considered to "Exceed Benefit Limits." These are the costs that will be charged to all clients, regardless of their relationship with insurance, Medicaid included.

- Collateral Sessions: Sessions with parents or guardians of child clients to discuss the child's care. These sessions may be billed to insurance if they are not scheduled on the same day as the child's appointment. Sessions that are scheduled as an extension of the child's appointment, or on the same day as the child's appointment will be charged the rate above based on the length of the appointment.
- Care Giver Consultations (Child clients): Therapists or Parents/Guardians may request the therapist speak with the child's teacher, school counselor, doctor, or other care provider. These consultations are not billable to insurance and will be billed to the nearest 15-minute increment, at a rate of $20 per 15 minutes.
- External Consultations (Adult Clients): Therapists or adult clients may request the therapist speak with other providers in the client's life, including doctors or other care providers. Within this category, these consultations could also include conversations with client's Attorney(ies), Parole Officers, or other members of law enforcement. These consultations are not billable to insurance and will be billed to the nearest 15-minute increment, at a rate of $20 per 15 minutes.
- Records Requests: "Records" refer to a single progress note, assessment, diagnostic, evaluation, intake note, termination note, or other single note in a client's case file. Each record is considered a separate document and charges will be made per record. These requests must be made in writing and are not billable to insurance.
 - Records sent to a client electronically: $5 per record.
 - Records sent to a client physically: $25 per record.
 - Records sent to a third party at the client's request, both electronic and physical copies: $25 per record.
- Requests for verification, letters, and assistance filling out forms: Client requests for this type of assistance need to be made in writing. Therapists will estimate the length of time required to meet the request. Based on the estimate, clients will be billed in advance and the document will only be released once the invoice has been paid. Fees for these requests start at $100 per hour, with a minimum charge of $100. If additional time is required beyond the estimate, clients will be notified and given the opportunity to determine if they want the project completed at an additional cost. Incomplete documents will not be released.
